Bathtub Repairs

Your bathtub is probably the single largest, most visible plumbing fixture in your home. It is used constantly for all kinds of things, from washing the dog, rinsing off camping gear, to taking a relaxing bath. Besides keeping it in good working order so it will last along with your home, there are lots of reasons why you want it to look great as well. It is a highly personal fixture, yet your guests see it each time they use the bathroom. While your tub may seem indestructible, with all the use it gets there are lots of ways it can fall into disrepair.

While in-home bathtubs were originally made of wood, today's bathtubs can be made of a variety of materials, including enameled cast iron, porcelain, steel, fiberglass, acrylic, or even cultured marble.

Whatever kind of tub you have, Rooter-Man has the skills to work on any type of material, whether it be for a minor repair or a complete restoration.

TESTIMONIALS

"Best I have ever seen." (US Central Intelligence Agency)

"Extremely Insightful." (Government of Kenya)

"Jackie did a great job working to make the solution relevant." (Finances and Administrative Services Director, Major Western US City Government)

*"Profound and brilliant - thank you!"

"Your teaching style is spectacular. I wish that my law school, undergraduate, and grade school teachers approached discussion and information dissemination the way you do. Based on my current life philosophies, I would have found your class to be extremely rewarding even without making any improvement in my reading speed." (SR, February 2012 Seattle Workshop Participant)

A Repair Technique for Every Type of Bathtub

A bathtub can last for decades, but if damaged, it can deteriorate quickly. An unsightly chip or crack is more than a cosmetic concern - the tub could be leaking, causing unseen damage that could affect other rooms and systems in your home and create a mold problem that could spread. Rooter-Man can diagnose your situation and determine the level of repair you need and if any water damage has been done to the surrounding area. Call us right away at (866) 577-1221 and we will be happy to answer any questions and set up a consultation. We want to save you money, but ultimately we want you to be happy and safe in your home.

A skilled Rooter-Man technician will determine what level of repair you need. It might be a crack in your porcelain, fiberglass, marble, enameled, or acrylic tub. Or it might be a chip in the porcelain that is rusting the cast iron tub underneath. You will be amazed at how your tub will look after the repair! There will be virtually no visible evidence that there ever was any damage! And if your tub needs to be completely refinished, it will look like new!

How are the Repairs Made?

Rooter-Man will use the exact technique that fits your situation, but let's take a look at one of the most common types of repairs, the porcelain chip repair.

Once the area is cleaned, dried, and prepared, a waterproof, polyester resin is used to fill the chipped area. After it dries, the area is sanded and the enamel coatings are applied. Your skilled Rooter-Man technician now becomes an artist as the exact color and textures of your tub are matched and blended so that the repair will be nearly invisible. The repair will last the lifetime of your tub.

Whether your tub is relatively new and has a small chip or is decades old and needs a complete restoration, Rooter-Man can help. You will be amazed at how your tub will look - and FEEL new again.

Is it Economical?

Replacing a bathtub can cost thousands of dollars while refinishing can cost a small fraction of that. And while there are do-it-yourself kits on the market, it is nearly impossible to achieve a repair that will last, match your tub's color exactly, and feel right.

Do you keep the shower curtain drawn when you have guests because you are ashamed of how your bathtub looks? Call Rooter-Man today for an estimate of what it would take to get your tub looking and feeling new again!
